

TCI® Develops New Circlematic™ Powerglide Transmission Packages

For optimal circle track racing performance, the industry's drivetrain technology leader introduces the total package of performance and durability

Dependability is a vital component to winning circle track races – on both asphalt and dirt. As a company of racers that understands this premise, TCI® went to work to develop the perfect transmission package for maximum drivetrain durability for several popular circle track racing classes. Available for various circle track dirt and asphalt racing applications, these new Circlematic™ Powerglide Transmission Packages deliver the ultimate in reliable performance. And with less rotating weight, they reduce drag for improved lap times and increased speeds.

The transmissions come standard with the highest quality internal components, including a heavy-duty planetary modified for maximum rear-end travel. Each system-engineered Circlematic™ package includes a torque converter that has been built to maximize efficiency and reduce slippage that can reduce lap times by over a tenth of a second when compared to stock. Certain packages include “dummy” converters or couplers to maximize performance by allowing direct drive and decreasing rotating weight. Also included in this premium package are the dipstick and premium Max Shift™ Circle Track Automatic Transmission Fluid.

The Circlematic™ Powerglide Transmission Packages from TCI® are designed to give you faster lap times and improved durability for the entire circle track racing season.
