

Inglese™ Cross Ram DCOE Weber Intake Manifold For Small Block Chevy Engines

Industry's foremost induction jeweler introduces an innovative new cross ram intake manifold with four DCOE-type Weber carburetors for GM SBC applications

When it comes to show car looks for your Small Block Chevy muscle car, some parts can be difficult to find – especially in the induction category. Aware of this, the induction specialists at Inglese™ have recently rolled out a special product for GM enthusiasts – the Cross Ram DCOE Weber Intake Manifold for Small Block Chevy applications.

This new intake manifold from Inglese™ is available as an individual piece or can be purchased as part of a complete Inglese™ induction system. The Cross Ram DCOE Weber Intake Manifold is available in both carbureted and EFI (electronic fuel injection) versions and if purchased as a complete system, it can be tailored specifically for your vehicle, including special paint schemes, various stack options and custom tuning to give you a one-of-a-kind work of art.

In addition to its wicked appearance, the manifold uses four uniquely-tailored DCOE-type Weber carburetors or throttle bodies to ensure that it will not run short on hot rod performance. And most importantly, Inglese™ is the only induction company that has this manifold in stock.

The industry's foremost induction jeweler for almost thirty years, Inglese™ specializes in show quality custom tuned Weber carburetion systems, EFI systems, intakes and components for muscle car applications.
